DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to amendment filed 6-12-02.

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

2. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with attorney of record Mr. Zborovsky on 13 June 2002.

The application has been amended by replacing the abstract with the following:

Abstract

A method and device for measuring electrical voltage allow measurement under open-air conditions including high-voltage and very high voltage. Influence of temperature changes on electrical and optical parameters of the device are reduced by using light sources, at least one optical transmission path, at least one sensor element with at least one active sensor part made up of several sensor crystals and evaluation by Pockel's effect using optical activity in a crystal. Measurement light generated by a light source penetrates an active sensor, which has at least two sensor crystals and at least one active sensor part in the sensor element where there is a voltage drop and the polarization state of measurement light is used for measuring voltage. A sensor element can be made up of several active sensor parts and the total voltage obtained from the summation of partial voltages across sensor parts by an evaluation unit having a function for performing integration. Several sensor elements may be combined and transmitted optical waves are converted to electrical signals for evaluation of voltage.

Drawings

In Figure 1 and 2 a --Prior Art-- legend has been added. See MPEP § 608.02(g).

Claims

In claim 1, lines 16-17 “the scaling” has been changed to –scaling--.

In claim 9, line 9 “the scaling” has been changed to –scaling--.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-21,25 are allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims 1-8 are allowed because the prior art of record, or that encountered in searches performed by the examiner does not teach or suggest the claimed method of measuring electrical voltage comprising evaluation means for evaluating the polarization state of measurement light traversed through sensor crystals wherein the evaluation means is used with a component assembly for scaling and multiplying input signal by a factor generated by a function unit, its input quantity representing the difference between a reference signal and a factored output signal wherein the function unit performs integration.

Claims 9-21,25 are allowed for a device for measuring alternating electrical voltage comprising evaluation means using Pockel's effect in sensor crystals penetrated by polarized light wherein the evaluation means contain at least one component assembly for scaling by multiplying input signal by a factor generated by a function unit, its input quantity representing the difference between a reference signal and a factored output signal wherein the function unit performs integration.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
